

BOURNE GRAMMAR SCHOOL BULLETIN

Week ending Friday 22 January 2021

From Alastair Anderson, Headteacher

Wider UK news broadcasts this week have been difficult to absorb. Shocking virus impact figures, a stunningly powerful BBC Covid frontline update by Clive Myrie on the consequent strain on NHS intensive care units, and now the extra impacts of flooding. The third “blue” Monday in January by reputation is the most gloomy date on the calendar as winter darkness and the reality of work after the Christmas holiday sinks in. In this context, all health workers in our hospitals battling to save lives are worthy of our utmost support and respect.

And yet, when all seems dark and grim, children are able to bring a smile to our faces and my own spirits have been raised significantly as I learned of the innovative ways in which Bourne Grammar students have been responding to lockdown. As I browsed our online Teams Channels, expecting perhaps to see the negative impacts of our current situation, I found instead widespread evidence of a positive and forward thinking mindset. Sixth Form students have reached out to our younger year groups, putting together helpful videos for them including Yoga, Art ideas and even a fun murder mystery investigation amongst other suggestions. Fantastic stuff! There are quizzes galore, a photography competition in both Year 8 and 9 with some outstanding entries, a first class motivational clip for Year 7, a thriving Art Club in Year 9, a tasty looking Bake Off and countless posts from staff putting resources from various extra sessions and external lectures for all to access if required. BGS Bees is alive and well, a Year 10 newsletter is internally published each week and plans for the Year 13 Yearbook are clearly in process. So much energy, so much positivity and in particular so much support on offer.

And this support is something we will grow and harness for as long as it takes. I am grateful to all teaching colleagues who continue to offer extra after school catch-up sessions online, though for younger students in particular I would emphasise that these are entirely optional and not a requirement. If you have had enough of being sat in front of a screen for the day then taking a walk outside or doing something different might be the best form of “catch-up” for you! Our tutors and pastoral staff have been working hard to maintain communications with our students, and our team of Covid testing volunteers have been in school again to ensure our site is safe. We have also been fortunate to receive a grant from the BGL group that will allow for the purchase of several more laptops to help us ensure all students have access to online learning. If kindness was the focus at the start of term, then working hard to support one another during the current period of lockdown is certainly the natural next step.

Finally a national consultation was launched by the government last week to gather opinion from parents and all those in the education sector on the best way for our Year 11 and 13 students to be awarded GCSE and A-Level grades this summer. This is an important consultation, the results of which will shape the approach of every school in England to the awarding process this summer, and I would encourage as many of you as possible to make your voice heard before it closes at 11.45pm on Friday 29 January. The survey can be found here: Consultation on how GCSE, AS and A level grades should be awarded in summer 2021 \(smartsurvey.co.uk\)

Stay safe, stay kind and thank you to all those who are doing so much to nurture and support our school community during these difficult times.

YEAR 8 PHOTOGRAPHY COMPETITION - Report by Miss Atkinson, Head of Year 8

Year 8 students have been entering their photographs into the first round of the Year 8 Photography Competition. The theme, as suggested by the students, was 'Things you only notice in Lockdown', and competition was tough. After much deliberation, 10 entries were chosen as finalists. I am pleased to be able to share with you the winning photographs and the finalists highly commended photographs.

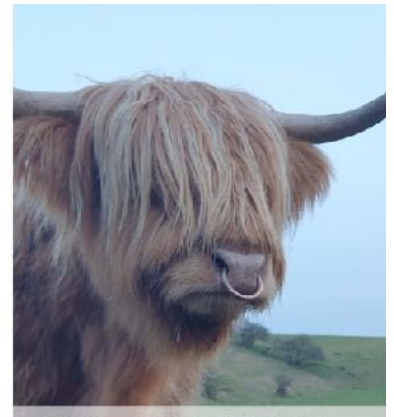

1ST: MATILDA HULME

1ST: ANNABEL HAYES

2ND: POPPY FASULO
